

CREATION

GENESIS 1-2

In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth. With intention and care, He formed a world that was full of life, beauty, and purpose. At the center of His creation, He made humanity—male and female—in His own image. They were created to reflect His glory, to live in relationship with Him, and to steward the world He had made.

God walked with them, and they enjoyed perfect fellowship with Him. There was no sin, no death, no brokenness—only goodness. And when God looked at everything He had made, He declared it “very good”.

THE FALL

GENESIS 3

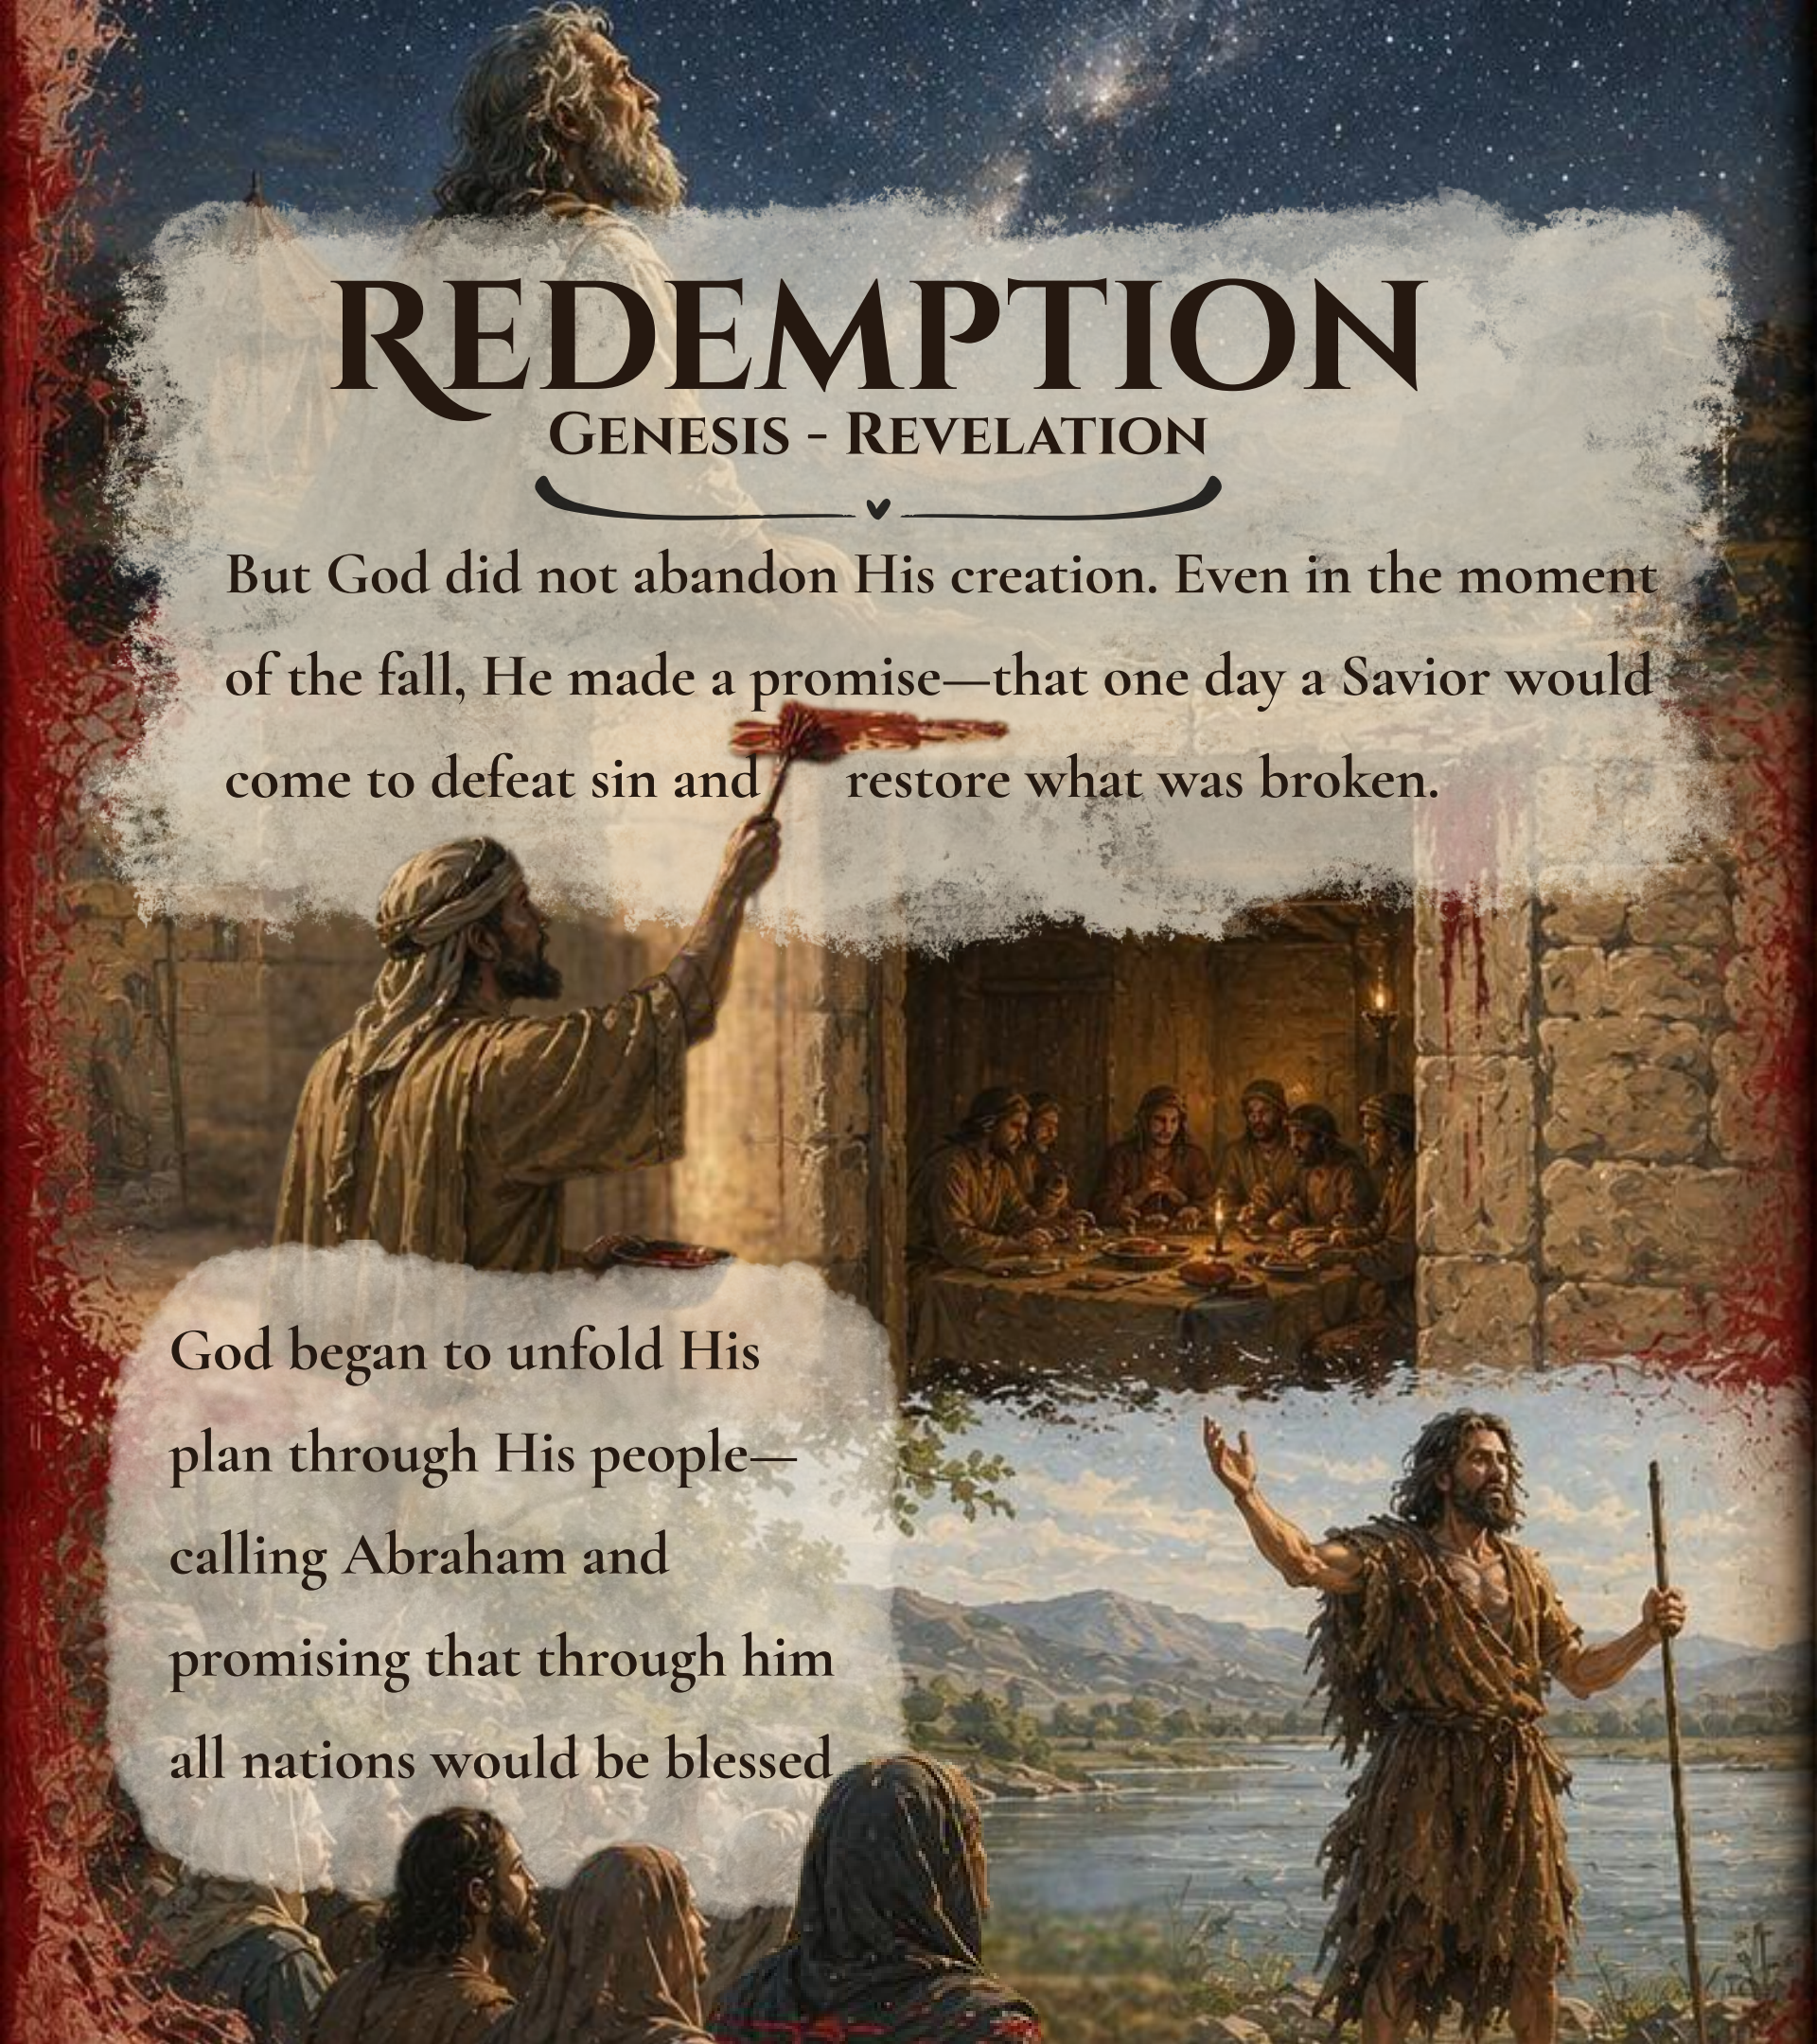

But something went wrong. Tempted by the desire to define good and evil for themselves, humanity chose to disobey God. Sin entered the world, and with it came consequences—pain, suffering, and death. The relationship between God and humanity was broken, and they were separated from His presence.

What was once whole was now fractured. This wasn't just their story—it became ours. Sin spread to all humanity, and every person now lives in this broken condition. What was created good is now deeply affected by sin.

REDEMPTION

GENESIS - REVELATION

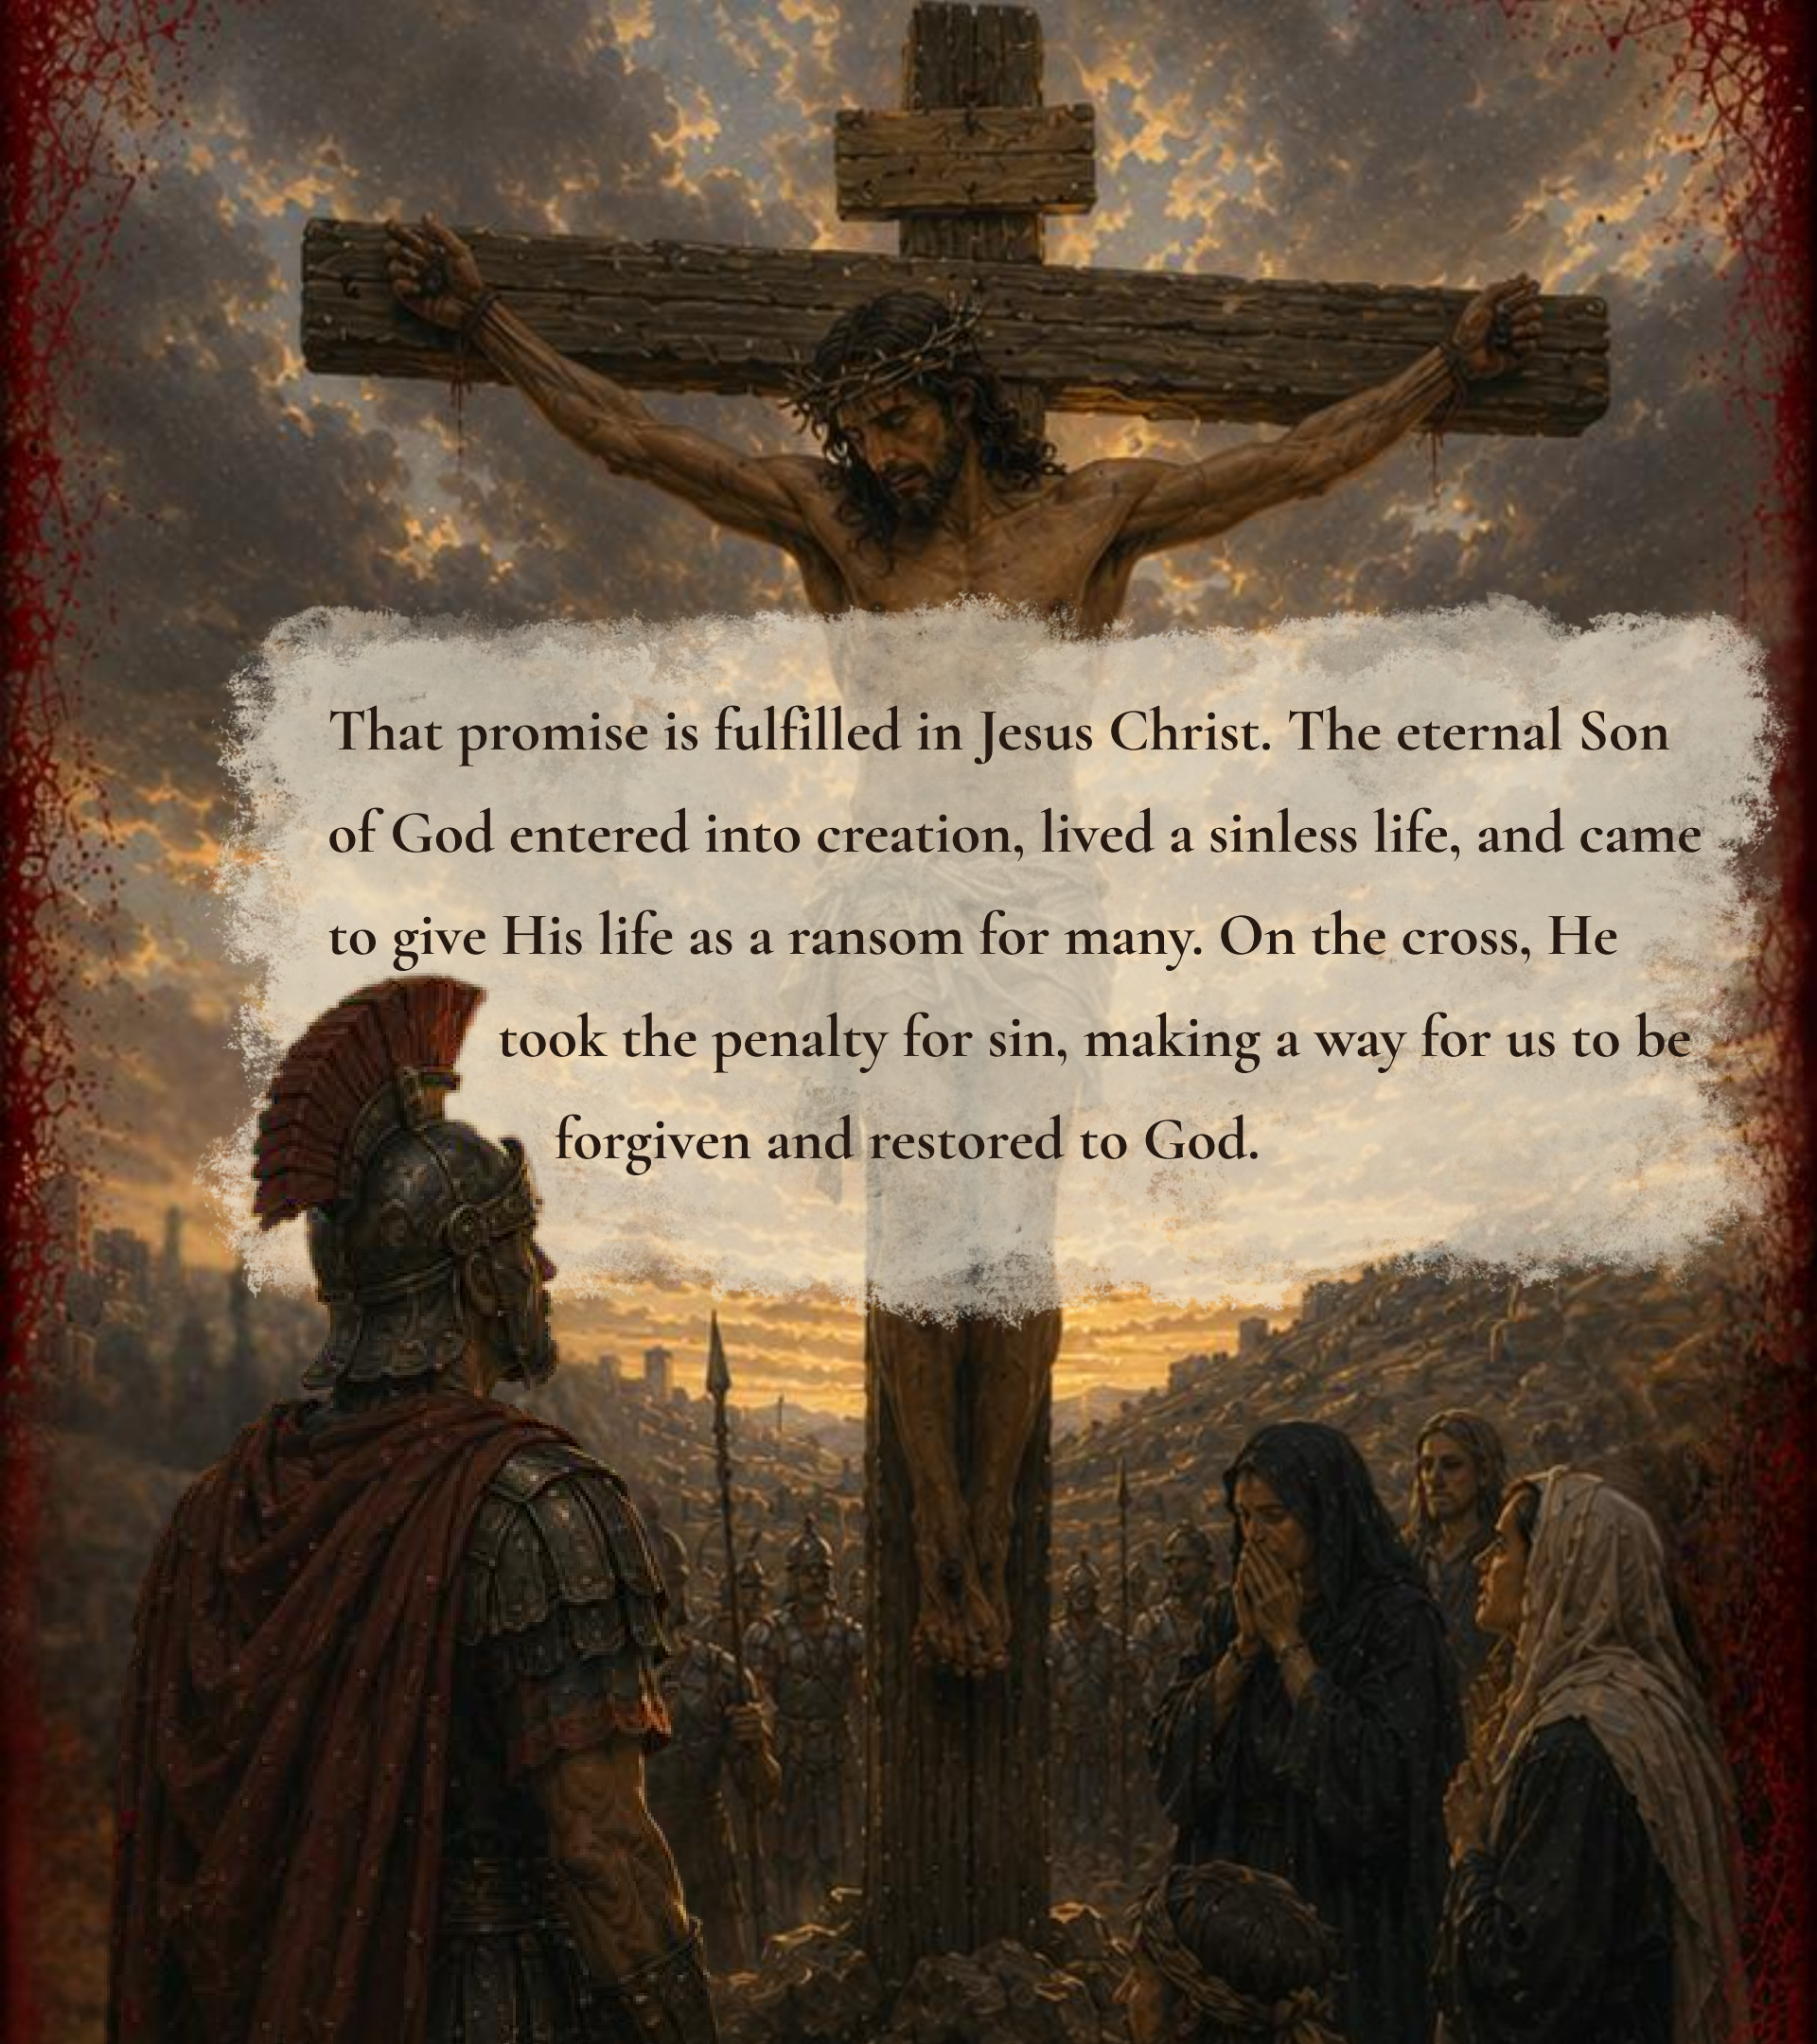

But God did not abandon His creation. Even in the moment of the fall, He made a promise—that one day a Savior would come to defeat sin and restore what was broken.

God began to unfold His plan through His people—calling Abraham and promising that through him all nations would be blessed rescuing His people through the Passover as a picture of salvation, and promising a king from David's line whose kingdom would last forever. All of this was preparing the way for something greater...

Key Scriptures:
Genesis 3:15, Genesis 12:1-3,
Exodus 12:1-13, 2 Samuel 7:12-13

That promise is fulfilled in Jesus Christ. The eternal Son of God entered into creation, lived a sinless life, and came to give His life as a ransom for many. On the cross, He took the penalty for sin, making a way for us to be forgiven and restored to God.

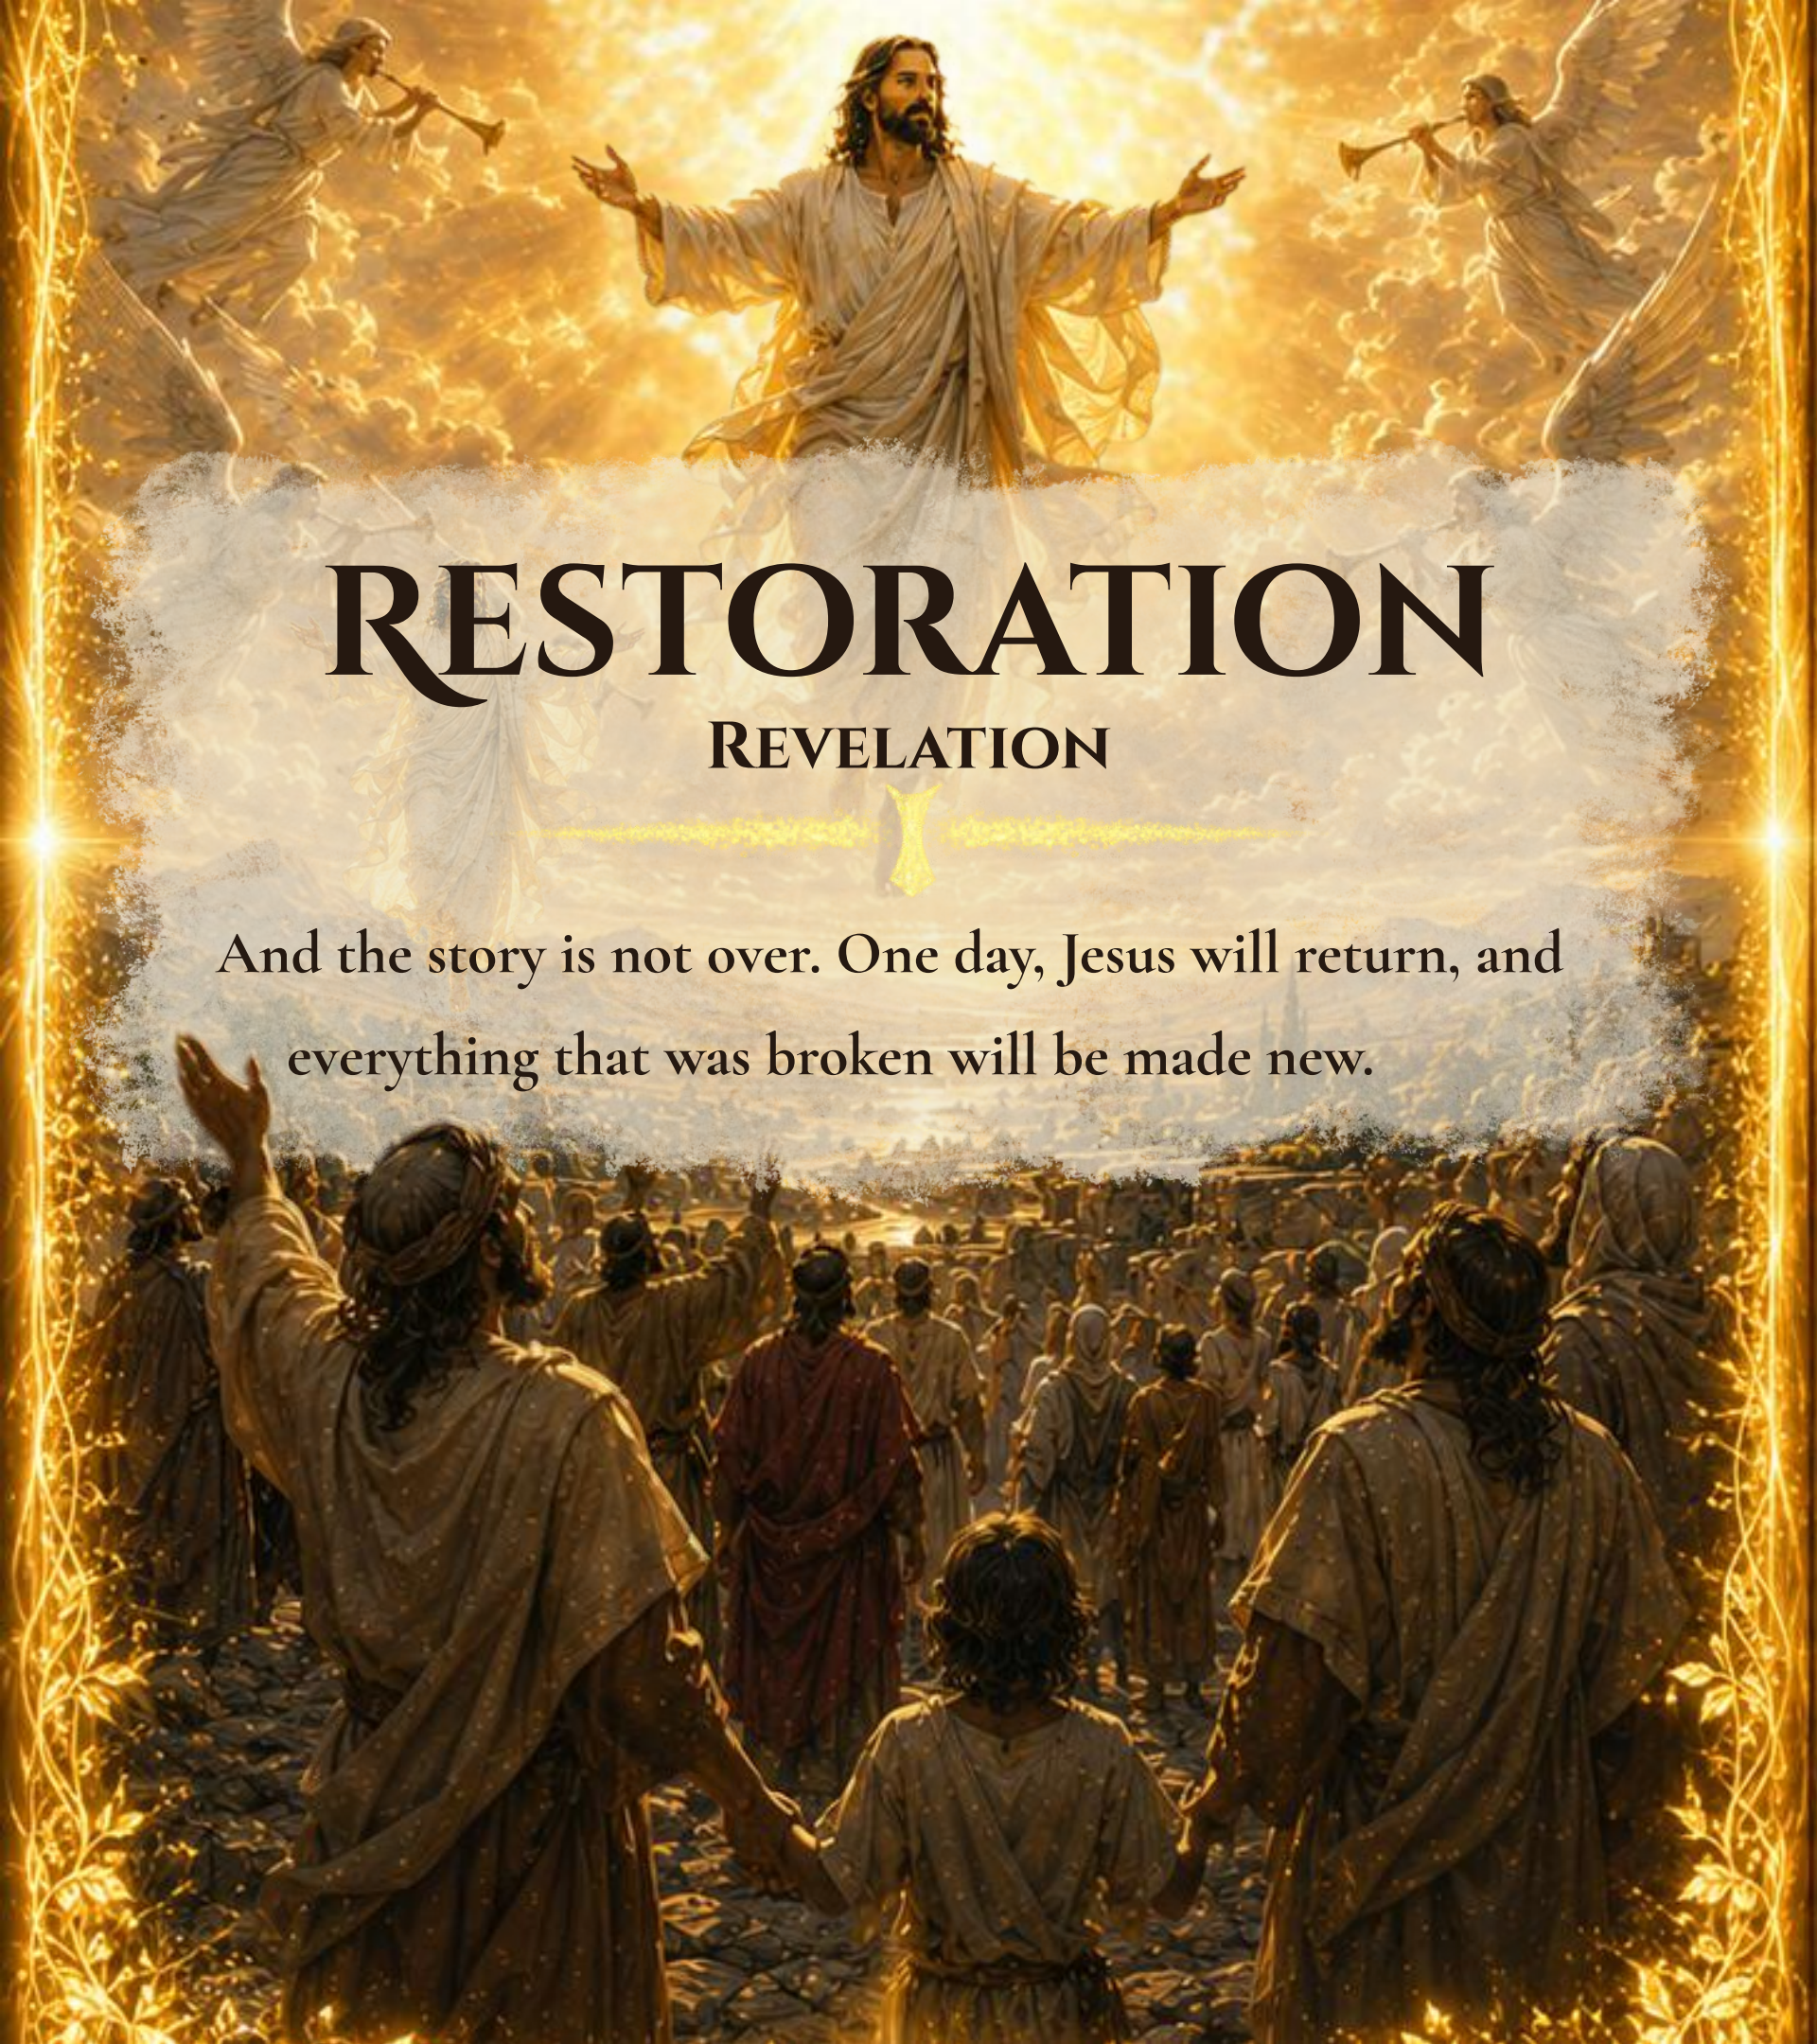

And through His resurrection, He defeated death once and for all. Now, through faith in Him, we are saved by grace, made new, and brought back into relationship with God.

His Spirit dwells within us as a promise of what is to come.

RESTORATION

REVELATION

And the story is not over. One day, Jesus will return, and everything that was broken will be made new.

There will be a new heaven and a new earth,
where God will dwell fully with His people.
There will be no more sin, no more suffering,
and no more death. The curse will be lifted, and creation itself will be restored. What began in a garden will end in a fully restored and redeemed world, where God's people live with Him forever. This is not just Eden restored—it is Eden fulfilled.
